

Your Everyday Money

Dear YEM Community,

Recent reports and our own monitoring have made it clear that we must implement more decisive—and yes, somewhat stricter—measures to uphold our core responsibility: safeguarding the interests of all YEM holders and preserving the value and integrity of YEM.

A small number of YEM holders are actively dumping large amounts of YEM at significantly discounted "penny" prices through lowball, more-or-less public offers and internal shuffling/trading arrangements. These repeated public or semi-public offers at absurdly low (and frankly damaging) prices are not only unrealistic but actively undermine the entire ecosystem.

Such actions harm YEM's reputation, depress its perceived value, and hurt the vast majority of holders and users—benefiting only the few orchestrating these dumps.

We will not allow this to continue.

To protect the community as a whole—particularly now that more and more legitimate projects are being built to strengthen and expand the YEM economy strictly at the official rate—we must act firmly.

As stated from the very beginning, the YEM Foundation expressly prohibits the sale or public offering of YEM at more than 5% below face value. We respect your individual freedoms and will not interfere with genuine private gifts, donations, personal transfers, or similar non-commercial activities. However, all public or semi-public discount offers below this threshold will be strictly sanctioned moving forward.

To address this urgent issue collectively, we are immediately opening a binding vote for all verified YEM holders. Due to the time-sensitive nature of these manipulative activities, the voting window is short:

- Voting opens: 2026-03-21 00:00:00 UTC
- Voting closes: 2026-03-24 00:00:00 UTC

The voting page will present the exact questions and wording, including a key proposal: introducing a temporary monthly transfer limit per PerNum (wallet/account) on YEM movements. Exceptions may be granted upon proof of legitimate large-value exchanges (e.g., real-world goods, services, or business transactions).

We strongly urge you to vote YES in support of these protective measures. They serve the interests of the overwhelming majority of YEM holders and users, helping secure the foundation for the growing number of projects that rely on and reinforce YEM at its official rate.

We will share exciting positive updates very soon via the YEM Foundation's official Telegram channel.

Thank you for your understanding, support, and continued commitment to the YEM vision.
